BUILDING TRADES SIGN PACTS FOR ONE YEAR

PEACE ASSURED
AS EMPLOYERS
AND WORKERS
RENEW SCALES

Carpenters' Agreement Does Not Expire Until 1929.

OLD PAY STANDS

Bricklayers, Painters and Plumbers Also in Line.

Peace in the building trades in the East Liverpool district for another year, was practically assured today, when wage pacts which expired May 1, were renewed or negotiations to that end were under way between contractors and their employees.

Plasterers Will Sign

The carpenters' agreement, signed last spring for two years beginning May 1, 1927, does not terminate for another year. The carpenters are now receiving $10.24 per day.

Bricklayers, who are being paid $12 per day, have made no overtures for changes in their present agreement and will continue to work at the present scale of wages. The same situation prevails with respect to the hod carriers who are being paid 90 cents per hour, or $7.20 per day.

While the pact has not been signed, no change is expected in the scale of the plasterers, who are now receiving $13 per day.

Painters have renewed their scale of $10 per day, while electricians, receiving the same wages, are also expected to sign a renewal. Changes in working conditions may be made in the new agreement between master plumbers and their employees. The present scale is $11 per day.

Building Program Here

All agreements call for a five and one-half day week.

Approximately 25 to 30 houses are under construction in East Liverpool and the adjoining suburban territory. With the exception of the garage building which the Winland Brothers will erect in Minerva streets, no large building projects are planned for East Liverpool this season. One of the city's industrial plants, it is reported, may erect an addition which will mean the expenditure of about $100,000, but this project has not been approved.

The Ohio Power company is building a temporary sheet metal substation at the corner of Second and Washington streets. Peter Milliron has a gasoline filling station under way on the opposite corner. The United Clay Mines Corporation is planning the erection of a storage plant in East End, while The East Liverpool Cement Block company is excavating for a factory at the west end of Ohio avenue along the River

COMEDIAN'S JOKE
TO COST HIM $5

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Will Rogers, the comedian, has told one joke too many and his last one will cost him $5, according to Senator William E. Borah (R.) of Idaho.

Rogers boasted of sending $5 to Borah's "Republican conscience fund," which the Idaho senator is raising to repay the $100,000 "loaned" by Harry F. Sinclair to the Republican party in 1923. Rogers said he had listed five Republicans he wanted Borah to "clean" for his five dollars.

The only thing wrong with Rogers' little joke, Borah said today, was that he never sent in the five bucks.

"But Borah added, 'I'm going to write him and ask him for the five.'"

FIRE DAMAGES
TWO HOMES HERE
OVER WEEK-END

Ernest Bucher Home, Jennings Avenue, Hit Saturday Night.

LOSS IS $3,000

Boy Burned While Attempting to Extinguish Blaze.

Damage, estimated at approximately $3,000 was done by fire to two homes in East Liverpool over the week-end.

The most extensive loss occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bucher, near Highland Colony, on Jennings avenue, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The blaze, firemen say, started in the stairway leading from the basement to the main floor.

The blaze had gained a big headway before the fire department arrived. Three rooms on the first floor of the house were badly damaged while second floor rooms were damaged by smoke.

The cause of the fire, where the damage was estimated at about $2,500 was not determined. The loss is covered by insurance.

The other blaze was at the home of Mrs. Leona Stanley, Waterloo street, shortly before the noon hour yesterday. Paul Stanley, 17, son of the occupant sustained burns to his hands, arms and face when he attempted to extinguish the fire.

The blaze started when fumes from a liquid cleaner which was being used by young Stanley ignited with the fire under a hot water boiler in the bath room. The flames reached three rooms in the house, firemen being forced to use a line of hose to extinguish the fire. The damage is estimated at about $500, the loss being covered by insurance.

MRS MARY McBRIDE
67, IS DEAD HERE

Mrs. Mary E. McBride, 67, wife of L. L. McBride, died Saturday night in her home, 652 Minerva street, after a long illness.

Mrs. McBride, who has been a resident of East Liverpool for 25 years, was a member of the Methodist Protestant church, Rebekahs, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, Pythian Sisters, Rechabites and Daughters of America.

Besides her husband, she leaves one son, L. B. McBride, Cleveland, and three daughters, Mrs. C. E. Fleisher, Ripley, W. Va., and Mrs. A. Barrett and Mrs. H. L. Womer, both of this city.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in charge of Rev. J. F. Dinit, assisted by Rev. W. O. Hawkins. Burial will be made in Riverside cemetery.

WOMAN TO BE FREED TOMORROW

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, April 23.—Fifty-one militant women, who marched on the county jail here Saturday afternoon, demanded admittance—and got it—will be released tomorrow if they promise to return peacefully to their homes in Mutton hollow, near Bridgeport, and make no further disturbance, Prosecutor P. V. Waddell said today.

The Shadyside coal company's mine at that point is being operated, in opposition to the "Save the Union" faction of the United Mine Workers of America. This group has asked the removal of John Lewis, president of the U. M. W., and has opposed the return to work of union miners in the Mutton Hollow mine, although the union is said to have sanctioned the reopening of this particular mine.

Ben Newmark Slain While Sitting on Bed.

WIFE WITNESS

Assassins Fire Thru Windows of His Bungalow.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Ben Newmark, former chief investigator for State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, was shot to death in his home by unknown assassins early today.

Newmark was sitting on one of twin beds when the assassins fired upon him with sawed-off shotguns through the window of his bungalow.

Mrs. Newmark had retired in the other bed but was not yet asleep when her husband was slain.

Sticks Gun Through Bars.

Mrs. Newmark was in a state of hysteria when police arrived and could not give a coherent account of the shooting. Newmark was still breathing when the officers found him, but he died on his bed without making a statement.

The assassins had placed a flower box on the ground underneath the bedroom window on which they stood to fire the fatal shots.

The window was protected with iron bars, as were all of the bungalow windows. The murderer stuck the shotgun through the bars and into the open window.

Delegations from Youngstown, Warren, Niles and Salem will attend the meeting.

The East Liverpool degree team will represent lodges of this district at the national convention of the lodge which will be held at Columbus during the week of August 6, the local team having won the state championship at Youngstown last June.

New uniforms have been ordered for the degree team to be used for the first time in a public demonstration on May 29, when the local lodge will celebrate Mothers Day. The lodge will also join the G. A. R. in observing Decoration Day on May 30.

Industrial League Seeks $1200 to Finance Games.

Under the direction of C. W. Davis, president and Lee Cooper, advisory board member, the City Industrial Baseball league, composed of players from the East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Wellsville districts, this week will conduct a financial campaign to obtain funds for the current expenses of the circuit.

League officials will endeavor to obtain $1,200 in the campaign which, it is estimated, will take care of current expenses for the present campaign.

In view of the low admission prices charged at all league parks, President Davis asserts, it is necessary to enlist other support to maintain the circuit, which this year, he said, will be devoted, as far as possible, to the development of local players.

North Pole Flyers
Find No Continent

Captain Wilkins and Pilot Carl B. Eielson, at Green Harbor, Spitzbergen, Assemble Data for Report to Geographical Society.

OSLO, Norway, April 23.—It is as some Arctic explorers believe, a continent exists at the North Pole, Capt. George L. Wilkins and Pilot Carl B. Eielson failed to find it on their dash by plane from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen.

Capt. Wilkins and the American aviator are at Green Harbor, Spitzbergen, today where the former is assembling his data for a report to the National Geographical Society of America. While Capt. Wilkins made observations of great scientific value, reports received here so far indicate that he had made no new discoveries. Part of the time the aviators were in the air their vision was obscured by mist and clouds.

Plane is Damaged.

The landing gear of the plane was slightly damaged in landing on the ice at Green Harbor, after the hop off from Dead Man's Island, but it is believed here that the damage is not extensive and can easily be repaired. However, it is not known if there is sufficient gasoline at Green Harbor available to allow the explorers to continue their flight southward if they decide to do so.

No official advices have arrived here from Wilkins as to his future plans, but it is currently believed that he may try to continue the flight to Oslo and England, returning to the United States by steamship with the plane.

Ran Into Arctic Gale.

The explorers ran into an Arctic gale of great violence after they had flown approximately 2,100 miles and were within 35 miles of their goal—Spitzbergen. This storm continued to rage for five days, holding the airmen upon Doedmansoerla from Monday afternoon until Saturday morning when they were able to hop off from the bleak, desolate and uninhabited bit of land.

TO INSTALL ORGAN
Vitaphone and Movie-tone for American Playhouse.

Following a visit yesterday of President N. D. Dipson of the Southwestern New York theatres corporation, which owns and operates the American and Strand theatres in East Liverpool, Resident Manager William Hendricks today announced plans for changes and improvement in the two local showhouses.

According to Manager Hendricks the Strand, in St. Clair avenue will be entirely remodeled at a cost of $50,000. Finished, it will be practically new, as far as the interior is concerned. The remodeling will include new seating, heating, modern lighting, carpeting and complete decorating. Special attention will be paid to ventilation and heating.

The stage will be newly equipped and a lavishly appointed and furnished mezzanine floor will be a feature. A new electric sign and a new canopy will be installed. A mammoth organ, on a par with those of the larger theatres, Hendricks says, will be another innovation.

Both vitaphone and movietone will be installed shortly in the American theatre, East Sixth street.

Of these Manager Hendricks announces: "On vitaphone many of the greatest of the world's leading vaudeville acts are seen and heard; photoplays with talk and songs are played throughout by the 15-piece Vitaphone symphony orchestra. And in movietone, photoplays will be operated in a similar manner; in news reels there will be all the noise and talk that accompany the action."

PREDICTS LESS THAN 6,000 IN COUNTY POLL
AT PRIMARIES

Election Board Chief Puts City Total at 1,800.

APATHY RULES

Booths Open From 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Not more than 6,000 votes, less than 20 per cent of the poll, will be cast in tomorrow's presidential preference primaries in Columbiana county, J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections, predicted today.

No Democratic Contests.

Hilbert forecast that the vote in East Liverpool would not exceed 1,800, although there are about 8,500 names on the registration books. Lack of interest was assigned by Hilbert for the expected light poll.

On the Democratic ballot there is no contest. All candidates for delegates-at-large and district delegates to the Houston convention are pledged to the same candidates, while no names appear on the preference ticket for president and vice president.

Names of three candidates for president are on the Republican preference ticket while no candidates are listed for vice-president.

Registrars on Duty.

Election in East Liverpool will have their last opportunity to register for the primaries tonight. Registrars will meet at each of the 22 polling precincts between 5 and 10 o'clock tonight and enroll new voters and also issue and accept transfers from voters who have changed their places of residence since November. Polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Presiding judges have been instructed by the election board to tabulate the vote on the preference ticket and the vote for delegates-at-large and alternate-at-large and district delegates and alternates to the national convention and rush the returns by messenger to district zones. Count on the Democratic ballot need not be filed till the books and supplies are returned to the election board when the work is completed. Votes for delegates alternates to the state convention also be reported when books are turned to the election board.

RALLIES CLOSE
OHIO CAMPAIGN

Buckeye State Voters Await Trek to Booths.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Local rallies throughout Ohio tonight will mark the end of the oratorical phase of the Willis-Hoover contest which terminates tomorrow at Ohio's Presidential preference primaries.

Buckeye state voters, at the statewide primary election tomorrow, will register their choice of the various presidential candidates, will select delegations to represent Ohio at the Republican and Democratic National conventions next June, and will elect delegates and alternates who will attend the state conventions of these two political parties here this summer.

At the Republican primary, the major interest lies in the contest between the Willis and Hoover forces for selection of delegates and alternates to the Republican National convention. This Ohio delegation will comprise 51 delegates and 51 alternates. The G. O. P. presidential preference ballot contains the names of the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and Attorney Olin J. Ross, Columbus.

The voters will select a delegation, consisting of 52 delegates and 52 alternates, to represent Ohio at the Democratic national convention. Although no one "weighed in" as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Ohio Democrats tomorrow are expected to write on their blank presidential preference ballot their first and second choices for president and vice president.

Except in one or two congressional districts, the nominations made by the Democratic state committees for delegates and alternates to the Democratic national convention are unopposed.

Mr. Sinclair, well informed, would not promise any jurymen an automobile as long as that. If he made a promise to a jurymen he would keep it to the letter, and there are no automobiles a block long.

THE news of Mr. Sinclair's acquittal will interest Mr. Sinclair's horses. They will presumably resume racing in Maryland. Those that bet hard-earned money on the race track, including young men occasionally made into thieves by stealing money to bet, will have a wider choice in the betting.

Gallstone Troubles Explained

Kansas City Doctor Gives Good Advice to Sufferers From Gallstones of the Liver

Gallstone sufferers, especially those whose suffering has about driven them to an operation will welcome the joyous news that a large percentage of cases of this painful, health destroying disease may now be successfully treated without surgery.

To Dr. E. E. Paddock, a Kansas City physician, who for 30 years has specialized in the treatment of diseases of the gall bladder, gall ducts and the liver, belongs the credit for a remarkable home medical treatment that sufferers the country over declare has brought relief and has made hundreds of operations unnecessary.

According to Dr. Paddock, surgery is resorted to in many cases where medical treatment would be effective. It is Dr. Paddock's claim the knife should be used only in emergency cases, and that surgery removes only the effect—the cause remaining—unless medical treatment is taken to correct the trouble. Dr. Paddock is a strong advocate of the use of medicines to escape the necessity and danger of an operation. His book fully explains his method of treatment and of convincing evidence of efficiency.

Anyone who is afflicted or who is suspicious of any catarrhal inflammation and infection of the gall bladder or gall ducts associated with gallstones of the liver, should send for Dr. Paddock's booklet, "The Liver and Gall Bladder." A copy will be sent free and post-paid to any who request it. In this booklet the Doctor tells the story of his long experience in treating catarrhal conditions associated with gallstones of the liver with medicine. He explains the symptoms by which the disease may be recognized before it reaches an acute stage—and why these symptoms, unheeded, may cause indescribable suffering and ill health. Just fill in and mail the coupon below and the booklet will be sent free and without any obligation whatsoever. Send for it today.

FERRY BOAT OF RIVER STYX IN ANCIENT GRAVE

Light on Life of Sumerians Given by Explorers.

FIND TWO TOMBS
Joint Expedition of Pennsylvania and British Museums.

JERUSALEM.—Ferry boats to carry the dead across the water separating this world from the next were put in the graves of ancient Sumerians, on whose life four thousand years before the present era much light is being thrown by the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania Museum and the British Museum at Ur of the Chaldeans.

Two more royal tombs dating back to the fourth millennium B. C. were found. The tombs were plundered by grave-robbars in antiquity and were found in greatest confusion, the thieves leaving just enough for C. Leonard Woolley and his assistants to go by in judging the elaborate burial of royalty and the human sacrifice accompanying it.

Against the foot of one of the graves built in a pit with a roofed stone chamber and an arched doorway were found eleven bodies of women wearing rich head-dresses of gold, lapis and corneal. More bodies of men and women not so elaborately adorned were strewn over the rest of the floor.

Heavy Wagons.

Two heavy wooden four-wheeled wagons, each drawn by three oxen stood in front, the animals wearing silver rings in their muzzles, silver collars decorated with eye ornaments, reins of silver and lapis. Two ranks of soldiers of the guard keeping the entrance, were also traced with their copper helmets on their skulls, their spears by their sides.

An unplundered tomb of a queen named "Sdubad" was the richest of the finds. There were two crowns, one a composite of gold ribbons, beads, heavy gold rings which hung across the forehead, mulberry leaves and willow leaves of gold, and gold rosettes with inlaid petals of shell and lapis. Above the top of the head rose a tall ornament of gold with seven points ending in gold flowers. The other crown was of gold and lapis beads, decorated with little figures of stags, bulls, rams, and antelopes, with ears of corn, flowers and bunches of pomegranates, all of gold.

Ten Gold Rings

She wore ten gold finger rings, necklaces, amulets of lapis and gold.

KOKOMO, "TRAMP PRINTER," DIES

TULSA, Okla. — "Kokomo" is dead. To hundreds of newspaper offices throughout the United States, and a number of foreign countries, "Kokomo" represented R. W. Phillips, a 74-year-old "tramp printer," whose travels took him around the world and from one side of America to the other. "Kokomo" was respected for his vast personal acquaintance with many distinguished men. He started his wanderings from Kokomo, Indiana, where his father was the owner of a newspaper, more than fifty years ago. Several times "Kokomo's" life, his wanderings and philosophy, were made conspicuous in articles appearing in periodicals. He formerly worked in the government printing shop at Washington.

came to light as the excavations began, including a frontlet of gold chains and lapis beads. There was a very fine hunting board set in silver, with all its squares made of shell plaques engraved with animal scenes and colored in red and black, and against the wall buried in the fallen stones, but yet miraculously preserved was a silver model two feet long of a rowing boat with oars and awning. Like the Egyptians, the ancient Sumerians believed that the dead must cross the water separating this world from the next, and the ferry boat was commonly placed in the grave for the man's use. The thieves who broke into the tomb had not disturbed the rest of the grave area.

LISBON, April 23.—An application for the reduction of the number of justices of the peace in St. Clair township from three to two will be heard by Judge Lodge Tiddle in probate court Wednesday, as a result of a petition filed by 240 or more electors.

There are two elected justices of the peace now serving in that township. Recently the trustees appointed a third, without any application being made in probate court as provided by law.

On Tuesday the probate court will hear proceedings in aid of execution in the case of Carrie Dillon against Oscar Leonard, and also a motion to compel the guardian to pay money in the case of the guardianship of Cornelia Ritter. A motion to order distribution of assets also be heard by the court in the case of N. C. Arthur against J. L. Barthold.

On Wednesday exceptions to the account of the administrator in the estate of George French will be heard. There will also be a hearing on the petition to compel an accounting in the estate of Timothy Normile.

The work of the court today was devoted to the disposition of juvenile cases.

COUNTY FRUIT NOT DAMAGED

LISBON, April 23.—With the possible exception of early cherries, no damage has been done to fruit trees in the eastern part of the county, according to County Commissioner Frank Bye, a fruit shipper out of Midleton township.

In the potato section, should growers carry out reported intentions to increase acreage, it is the opinion of some distributors that this will mean an unfavorable market situation next fall. Potatoes are said to have been a profitable crop during the last three years, but it is pointed out that profits will be jeopardized this year if production is overdone.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?
A Famous Authority's Rule
By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight-pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. It doesn't give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

AVOID DIZZY SPELLS

Never well. Always tired and fagged out. Beauty tossed away by neglect. To be beautiful and to keep youth the system must be free from poisonous backwash of constipation which often causes dizzy spells. For 20 years, Dr. F. M. Edwards gave his patients, in place of calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Known by their olive color. They free the system of poisons that ravage health, energy, beauty.

You need never have hollow complexion, dull eyes, coated tongue, throbbing headaches—all signs that your bowels are clogged, liver is torpid. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly. They act smoothly and without gripping. How much better you'll feel and look! Everywhere wise men and women who know the value of good health take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Community room of the Potters' National bank, East Fifth street, with Miss Beulah Lapp as leader.

Crystal Sewing club, Order of Eastern Stars, will meet with Mrs. C. W. Kress, on Blakely street, with Miss Ruth Price as associate hostess.

MAN IS KILLED BY PATROLMAN

State Police Probe Shooting on Monaca Railroad Span.

BEAVER, April 23.—The shooting and killing of an unidentified man here last night at the Monaca end of the P. & L. E. railroad bridge by Police Officer Charles T. Perault, 1617 Third street, Beaver, is being investigated by Corporal Marcus White of the state police and Corporal H. C. McCarter. The man was shot through the left side and left arm and died almost instantly, police say.

According to the story told by Perault to Corporal White, he was relieving Investigator Brown, Bridgewater, as watchman in the shanty at the Beaver end of the bridge when the man approached. Perault warned him against crossing the bridge. The two officers gave chase. After crossing the bridge and near the Legation coal yards, Perault said the unknown man drew a revolver and in defense of his own life he fired two shots at the man.

A physician was summoned and pronounced the man dead. The stranger is about 45 years old, weighs about 140 pounds and was poorly dressed. There was nothing in his clothing by which he could be identified. The revolver found on the body was of old make. Perault was released by Corporal White pending an inquest by Coroner McCarter.

C. & P. Railroad Will Issue Mortgage Bonds

Securities to be Delivered to Pennsylvania Railroad in Reimbursement of Like Amount of Indebtedness

The Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $1,897,000 of general and refunding mortgage 4 1/2 per cent gold bonds, series A, to be delivered to the Pennsylvania railroad at par in reimbursement of a like amount of indebtedness due that company.

The Pennsylvania has been granted authority to assume obligation and liability as lessee of the C. & P. proper ties and as guarantor of the bonds.

The full text of the report of Division 4, in Finance Docket No. 6814, follows:

The Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad company, hereinafter called the C. & P., a corporation organized for the purpose of engaging in transportation by railroad subject to the interstate commerce act, and the Pennsylvania Railroad company, hereinafter called the Pennsylvania, a common carrier by railroad engaged in interstate commerce, have filed a joint application under section 20a of that act in which the former seeks authority to issue and deliver at par to the Pennsylvania $1,897,000 of general and refunding mortgage 4 1/2 per cent gold bonds, series A, and the latter seeks authority to assume obligation and liability as lessee and guarantor in respect of said bonds. No objection to the granting of the application has been presented to us.

The properties of the C. & P. are leased to the Pennsylvania under a lease dated October 25 1871, for a term of 999 years from December 1, 1871. The lease was assigned by the Pennsylvania to the Pennsylvania company an assignment of lease dated April 14, 1872, and reassigned to the Pennsylvania by an assignment dated December 28, 1917.

It is represented that during the period January 1, 1923, to December 31, 1926, the Pennsylvania advanced to the C. & P. the sum of $4,897,998.28 for improvements upon and betterments and additions to its property. The proposed general and refunding mortgage provides that of an authorized issue of $60,000,000 of bonds issuable thereunder, not exceeding $1,415,000 thereof by proper public authorities and the remaining bonds, with certain exceptions, may be drawn down for specified expenditures made after January 1, 1924, which include those of the same character as stated in the present application.

Under the terms of the lease the storehold indebtedness constitutes a liability of the lessor to the lessee to be paid by securities of the lessor. The issue of the proposed bonds was approved by action of the lessee's board of directors, as is required under the terms of the lease.

The lease further provides that the lessee shall pay, among other things, such sums of money as may be needed to pay the interest on, and to redeem and pay at maturity, under certain conditions, the principal of any bonds called for by the lessee under the general and refunding mortgage of the C. & P.

The proposed bonds will be issued under and pursuant to, and will be secured by a proposed general and refunding mortgage to be dated August 1, 1924, between the C. & P. and the Bank of North America & Trust Company.

The balance sheet of the C. & P. as of December 31, 1927, shows investment in road and equipment $56,258,240, other investments $115,614, cash $3,600, special deposits $62,643, capital stock $39,070,657, and funded debt $7,963,000.

We find that the proposed issue of general and refunding mortgage bonds, series A, by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company, and the assumption of obligation and liability as lessee and guarantor in respect of said bonds by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, as aforesaid (a) are for lawful objects within their respective corporate purposes, and compatible with the public interest, which are necessary and appropriate for and consistent with the proper performance of them of services to the public as common carriers, and which will not impair their ability to perform necessary and appropriate for such that service, and (b) are reasonably purposes.

An appropriate order will be entered.

FORD RELIEF PLANE PILOT IS "IMPROVED"

Floyd Bennett Taken to Hospital at Quebec.

WIFE IS CALLED Pneumonia Halts Hop to Aid Crew of Bremen.

QUEBEC, Que., April 23.—The Ford relief plane carrying replacement parts for the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen reached Greenly Island safely at 11:40 a. m. today.

Word of the plane's arrival was received here in a radiogram from the Labrador coast opposite Greenly Island.

QUEBEC, Que., April 23.—Floyd Bennett, who was to have piloted the Ford relief plane to Greenly Island, was reported as "somewhat improved" today at the Jeffery Hale hospital where he is ill with pneumonia.

Bennett was more concerned that he was unable to go to the aid of the fliers than he was of his own condition. Few visitors were permitted to see him. His wife was notified at her home in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is now on her way to the bedside of her husband.

Bennett was very much elated when he was told that Capt. Wilkins had flown over the North Pole.

Balchen Ready To Go. SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 23.—With Bert Balchen at the controls, the huge trimotor Ford relief plane which is bringing repair parts and fuel to the marooned trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen, was expected to take-off for Greenly Island this morning.

The plane landed here yesterday because of a heavy snowstorm. After landing, Balchen made several attempts to get the plane into the air for the remaining 460 miles to Greenly Island but the snow, which turned into slush under the machine's skids, prevented a take-off. It was then decided to wait until morning in the hope that the overnight frost would harden the frozen surface of the river.

Major James E. Fitzmaurice, the Irish flier who is heading the expedition bringing relief to his trans-Atlantic companions, Captain Herman Koehl and Baron von Huenefeldt, is acting as emergency pilot on the flight.

Floyd Bennett, who with Balchen, piloted the Ford plane from Detroit to Lake St. Agnes, is in a hospital in Quebec, where it was stated he was suffering from pneumonia. Ernst Koepfen, chief mechanic of the Junkers company, and a newspaperman are accompanying Fitzmaurice and Balchen.

Byrd Goes to Quebec. BOSTON, April 23.—Cancelling all engagements, Commander Richard E. Byrd, Arctic and trans-Atlantic flier, today was preparing to leave at 9 o'clock this evening for the bedside of Floyd Bennett, co-pilot of the relief plane bound for Greenly Island to assist the trans-Atlantic Bremen.

Commander Byrd decided to leave when he received a telegram stating that Bennett was suffering from pneumonia in Jeffery Hale hospital, Quebec.

The commander missed an earlier train to Quebec and was greatly worried at not being able to get to the bedside of his friend. Bennett was second in command of the proposed Byrd-Antarctic expedition.

A year ago Bennett was seriously ill when his plane overturned while he was preparing the Byrd trans-Atlantic flight and spent several months in a hospital.

WILSON TO REPLY TO VARE CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 23.—William B. Wilson, former Wilson cabinet officer, was to reply today to the demand of Senator-elect William S. Vare (R.) of Pa., for recount of the 1926 ballots in thirty-one additional counties of Pennsylvania.

Wilson's reply was expected to call upon Vare for specific charges, instead of the generalized charge of fraud made by Vare. In his petition for the recount, Vare made no definite charge against Wilson or his organization.

The senate elections committee, which is conducting a recount now of the ballots cast in six Pennsylvania counties in the 1926 elections will not act on the Vare request until Wilson's reply has been studied. A decision probably will not be reached for several weeks.

The weather was far below zero during the entire flight and at times the cold was terrific, but the Lockheed-Vega monoplane used by the airman demonstrated that icy atmospheric conditions do not hinder the working of an airplane motor.

It isn't long since a different "Paris to Berlin and vice versa" movement was discussed. Frenchmen welcomed the German fliers on the arrival in Paris of their Junkers-Jupiter plane. At the same time Berlin greeted the French Farman-Jupiter plane arriving in one hop from Paris.

KIDNAPERS ARE FOILED

Screen Star's Home Under Police Guard.

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—A plot to kidnap Dolores Del Rio and hold the Mexican screen beauty for $100,000 ransom was revealed here today with three suspected conspirators under arrest.

At the same time it was learned that police have been guarding the star's home in Hollywood for the last two months and that a plainclothesman accompanied Miss Del Rio on her recent trip to Nogales, Mexico, where she went to obtain a divorce.

These precautions were taken because the kidnapping threat has been known to police.

Details of the kidnapping conspiracy were disclosed by Gustavo Carrillo, 27, in a purported confession to police.

He implicated Rosa Ayala, 34, former maid of Miss Del Rio, recently discharged, and four other men, one of whom is under arrest. The name of the third suspect in custody was withheld.

The asserted plot was intended to have as its aim the extortion of $100,000 in ransom from Senator J. L. Asunsolo, wealthy Mexico City resident and father of the motion picture star. Demands for ransom money were also to be made upon the producers of Miss Del Rio's pictures.

ATHENS, Greece, April 23.—Cleveland, Ohio persons were killed or wounded at Corinth by four violent earthquake shocks, according to word from that district today. The entire population was thrown into panic. The jail was partly destroyed, liberating the prisoners. Relief measures are being undertaken by the government. No damage was done by the tremors here.

LONDON, April 23.—Corinth, Greece, was believed to be in ruins today following four violent earthquake shocks which rocked the entire country last night, according to a dispatch from Athens.

Warned by minor shocks which preceded the violent "quakes," the population of the town hastily fled to the open country and no casualties resulted, the dispatch stated.

The town of Lutraki is believed to have been wiped out by the shocks. The number of casualties there has not been ascertained. Many other districts are also said to have been affected by the shocks.

Earthquakes in the Balkans during the last week have taken a toll of more than 200 lives, injured hundreds made thousands homeless and caused property damage running into millions.

So far the heaviest damage has been confined to Bulgaria, where many cities, towns and villages have suffered heavy damage.

EIGHT CARRIED FROM HOSPITAL

Community Hospital at Willard Destroyed by Fire.

WILLARD, O., April 23.—Eight patients at the Community hospital here were rescued under difficulty today when fire of undetermined origin all most destroyed the institution. The eight, removed to homes adjacent to the hospital, were reported suffering from shock and exposure.

Flames broke through the walls of the building about 4 o'clock this morning, according to Miss Edith Scharritt, night superintendent. Miss Scharritt said she thought she smelled smoke about 1 a. m. but a search at that time failed to find the source.

When the blaze was discovered, patients on the lower floor were removed through a rear door, but it was necessary to use ladders to reach those on the upper tier.

It will be necessary to rebuild the hospital, it was said. No estimate of the damage to building or equipment, the latter completely destroyed, was available this morning.

A wave of selling passed over the whole market near the end of the first hour, and prices were swept downward.

Stocks of the tobacco companies lost ground as the result of the cigarette price-cutting war between a few of the prominent manufacturers. Liggett and Myers B. Lorillard, United Cigar Stores and Philip Morris lost ground, Ladislav declining 5 points to 39 1/2. The rails and oils held steadily in this period, Sinclair losing most of its early spurt to around 28.

Call money renewals started the new week at 4 1/2 per cent. Commodity markets were generally steady, with crude rubber up 10 points, cotton up 12, grain, corn and oats fractionally higher at Chicago and other important trading centers.

Industrial stocks were unsettled in the second hour, though good buying demand was in evidence at slight concessions from last week's final prices.

URGENT WOMEN TO VOTE TOMORROW

"Support Organization Candidates," Mrs. Cronin Advises.

Mrs. Ha Marshall Cronin, chairman of the Columbiana County Women's Republican club, has written to all Republican central committee women, ward and precinct workers throughout Columbiana county, urging them to "support the delegates and alternates who have been regularly selected by the local Republican organization" at tomorrow's primary election.

"The Willis delegates, if elected," the letter reads, "will not be tied to any one candidate, but will use every honorable effort to bring about the nomination of that man who is best qualified for the presidency of the United States."

Women Republican leaders are also asked to use their influence in getting out the women vote at tomorrow's election. "Let us as women, make our influence felt," the communication reads.

Mrs. Mae Joseph, city C. O. P. chairman, said today that she had received inquiries from women who thought that they were required to register anew in order to vote tomorrow. Those who were registered and voted last November are entitled to a vote in the primary election tomorrow.

ESCAPED TRUSTY RETURNED TO PEN

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Loy Woods, 56, former trusty at the Ohio state penitentiary here who "walked away" last December was again in the institution today following his apprehension in Detroit Saturday.

Woods abandoned a truck belonging to the institution that he was driving last December in Dayton, Ohio, and made his getaway. He was taken in custody in Detroit by Field Officer Elliott Clinger and returned to the penitentiary yesterday.

Veto Threatened. WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Coolidge served an ultimatum on congress today that he would veto the Jones-Reid $325,000,000 flood control bill unless it is modified to meet his demands for a heavier contribution by the affected states.

SOVIET TRAINS IN COLLISIONS JUST FOR FUN

Engineers, Firemen Play Cards in Locomotives.

MANY SMASH-UPS

Drunken Station
Masters Blamed for Accidents.

MOSCOW.—Engineers and firemen playing cards in locomotive cabs while the passenger trains they are driving are tearing along the tracks at full speed, and drunken station masters shunting one train into another "just to see how much of a collision there will be"—these are among the causes which a railroad committee of inquiry found for the appalling increase in accidents on Soviet owned transportation lines.
14,500 Accidents.

The committee reported that there were 14,500 accidents on Soviet railroads last year in comparison with 6,000 in 1913. For every 100,000 kilometres travelled there were 147 accidents before the war and 5.56 last year. On one stretch of 500 miles of the trans-Caucasian road there were 61 serious accidents in 1927 in which 160 persons were killed and 300 seriously injured.

More than 80 per cent of all the mishaps on Soviet railroads, the committee reported, were caused by neglect of train crews or railroad employees.

Trains Cancelled.
Cases were found where trains were cancelled because conductors or engineers failed to show up for work.
In more than seven instances during the year trains failed to reach their destinations because switchmen and engineers shunted them hundreds of miles off their course. One game of cards in a locomotive caused a collision in which four persons were killed and 16 injured. The annual loss due to criminal negligence of train crews is estimated at $9,000,000.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

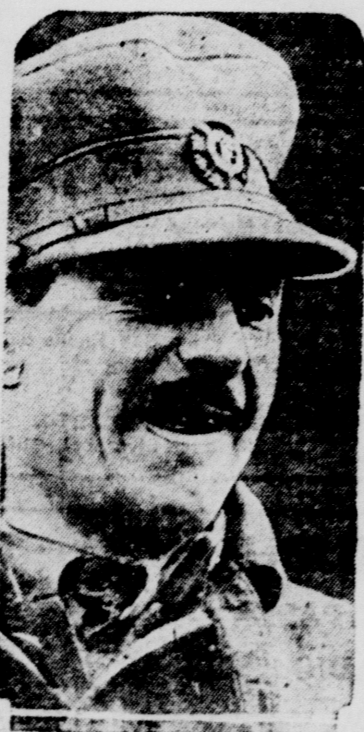

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
My fiancé and I had a quarrel over a foolish little question. He is the only one in the world I love and I really think he wants to make up.
Should I act friendly toward him or should I not? I also wish to return the ring. Should I send it to him or give it to him personally?

HEART-BROKEN: My dear, if you are really concerned for each other, you will not let a trivial quarrel break up your happiness. If you were to blame, it is your place to apologize and if your fiancé is at fault, encourage him to offer the apology by returning his friendly meeting. If you are unable to patch your quarrel up, it would be more considerate of you to return his ring to him personally.
I cannot help but doubt the sincerity of your love if you are willing to let a slight misunderstanding completely end your affair.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I have been going with a fellow for five months, and we are engaged.
He says he loves me dearly, and I love him, too. He is of a different nationality. Do you think that should affect our marriage?

He is 33 and I am 22. Will the difference in ages affect us?
MARY LOU: I doubt if you know this man well enough to be planning marriage, but if your parents approve of the match, I do not think the difference in your nationality should affect your happiness or life. As far as the difference in your ages is concerned if you have sufficient interests in common, I should not think that this would have material effect upon your married life. I should advise you to take more time in considering this step, however, and wait until you are more certain of yourself before you become definitely engaged.

Ohio's Opportunity

The next president of the United States will be nominated at the Kansas City Republican National Convention. Ohio has the opportunity of helping to nominate that candidate, if an uninstructed delegation is sent to the Convention.

The Willis delegates, if elected, will not be tied to any candidate. They will be an uninstructed delegation, free from any pledge except to the Republican voters of Ohio. They will be as judges to help determine and nominate that Republican who will make the best president for all the people and who will be most certain of election in November. The Willis delegates will have a wealth of qualified material from which to select that candidate, Calvin Coolidge, Charles Evan Hughes, Charles G. Dawes, Frank O. Lowden, Herbert Hoover, Charles Curtis, or some Republican not yet considered. The Hoover delegates are pledged to one candidate, and that is their weakness,
If the Willis delegates do not win, will Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan be re-elected a national committeewoman?

WILMA SINCLAIR LeVAN, Delegate at Large,
LOUIS H. BRUSH, District Delegate,
HOWARD L. WICKERSHAM, District Delegate,
H. H. MURPHY, District Alternate,
GEORGE S. TINLIN, District Alternate.

River Road Block Products Popular For All Building

Growing interest in the popularity of concrete masonry and cement stucco as home building materials has created a constantly increasing demand for them, a demand which, in the East Liverpool district, can be met in every detail by the River Road Block Works, operated by George H. Barlow.

You can afford to own a home of concrete masonry.

Construction economy assured by concrete makes it possible for you to own a home of this kind that you have always wanted and admired.

Homes of distinction and charm are built with these units every day. The upkeep and depreciation are the lowest on concrete masonry.

The River Road company handles a general line of tamped block, which is the general process. Trim stone, sills, doorways, steps, etc., and decorative effects are made to the customer's order. This is augmented by quality ornamental work such as vases, flower boxes, etc.

The River Road Block Works will gladly furnish estimates on various kinds of jobs and discuss designs.

Place Your Auto in Shape for the Road At Travis' Shop Here

Some people who own automobiles and drive them considerably take pride in the operation of their cars. Others, unfortunately, do not.

Some delight in the flow of power from the smooth, efficient motor. Others demand a noiseless operation, a ride without the annoying squeaks, rattles and jilts that accompany the average car whose owner is careless.

But, in any event, every person who owns and drives a machine should be certain that their car is in condition to be driven, if only for the sake of the safety of themselves and their families, or the people who ride with them.

The cost of one accident—a smashed up machine, or, to consider more serious possibility, someone badly injured by your car—would pay, many times over, the insignificant expenditure required for a thorough, workmanlike overhauling at the Naylor & Travis auto repair shop in Summit Lane.

The idea is to have the car thoroughly overhauled at Naylor and Travis' and when it comes out with their O. K. on it, you'll know you're prepared for the season. While specializing in Buicks, this shop is well equipped to handle practically any make of machine.

Quality, Freshness Assured in Buying From J. A. Anderson

If the household buyer insists always on James A. Anderson dairy products, which can be obtained through practically any district retail dealer in groceries and other food supplies, she'll always be assured of quality and freshness.

Butter, eggs, cheese, margarine, canned milk and similar food products which are necessities in the family larder, are distributed throughout the local territory by the Anderson agency.

The quality of Anderson products, of course, is constant, which is—always the best for the money.

But an additional advantage found in buying Anderson products is the fact that you can be certain of a steady supply and freshness which in this line of food, is the most outstanding requisite.

This is guaranteed, of course, by buying at home. Anderson keeps an adequate stock always on hand and the minute a dealer needs anything in this line, he can obtain it with the only delay that which is necessary for the transportation of the goods from the Anderson headquarters in West Sixth street to the store. That beats an uncertain out-of-town service in every phase.

Cain's is First Aid Shop Here for All General Repairing

Although specializing to a great extent in the designing, production and repairing of machinery for the pottery and ceramic trade in general, the Cain Machine company still remains a "first aid" shop for general repair operations in the East Liverpool district.

No job in their own particular line as engineers and machinists is too small to solicit their immediate attention and none, on the other hand, is large enough to surpass the bounds of their skill and workmanship.

Into practically all parts of the United States and into Canada and other countries as well, have gone the handiwork of this East Liverpool institution and the first job is always the forerunner of others.

Carefully executed work, a consummate skill and understanding of their trade is bespoken in every piece of work that leaves the shop. The high standard of quality set by the directing heads of the company must be met in every particular. Orders of this kind, well done, flourish and generally grow into more orders.

All Motorists Like The Stype & Lewis Brand of Service

Sometimes it's the service that goes with the purchase that makes customers leave with a smile and the avowed intention of coming back again. Some merchants who are able to see from the buyers' standpoint, know this and have made service an outstanding part of their daily transactions.

Perhaps that, to some degree, accounts for the success that has characterized the progress of the Stype and Lewis service station, which is a "service" station in all that the word implies.

Service and quality merchandise—a couple of bargains that you don't always pick up in pairs. Their service is maintained solely for the purpose of pleasing the customer—and it's the kind of a service that works any time of the day or the night.

Stype and Lewis are located at the corner of West Seventh and Jackson streets. Motorists are invited to "drive in—stay as long as you like." Comfortable quarters have been arranged for the convenience of the firm's patrons and a nicely arranged rest room for lady motorists.

Stype and Lewis deal in practically anything you need in the accessory line and carry, besides, the Goodyear line of tires.

Take Your Painting, Papering Troubles Over to E. S. Bonjour

In the springtime a young man's fancy lightly turns to—well, various things; but you are not so young and perhaps married. You'll know of course that in the springtime also a woman's mind turns to creating that distasteful, if necessary, thing known as housecleaning.

But, since it's got to be done, fellows, why not make the best of it? For instance, if you have any paper hanging off painting to be done, you can shift your troubles on the shoulders of E. S. Bonjour, Chester paper hanger and painter.

There's usually always a floor or so to be done over and if you use Foy's paint, declared Bonjour, you can't help but be pleased with the result.

Bonjour says that floor finished with Foy's floor enamel are not only easy to keep clean, but they also add new life to your home. With Foy's, you can have new floors overnight. It is easy to apply—flows on without brush marks or laps—can be used equally as good on both wood and cement floors and dries with a hard, durable gloss.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains that Bayer Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its free use, for it does not affect the heart. Every druggist has it, but don't fail to ask the druggist for Bayer. And don't take any but the box that says Bayer, with the word genuine printed in red:

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacoeleidester of Salicylicacid

The largest gain, according to Evans, will be made in Butler district owing to the completion of the new strip mill of the Weirton Steel company. Marland Heights will add $60,000 to Holliday's Cove which will also profit by the mill extension.

New Cumberland district will show a decrease owing to the closing of the bank and the brick yards at Black Horse.

Assessment of Holliday's Cove, Weirton and New Cumberland will be completed by June 1.

G. R. Johnson is in charge of the work in Chester and other sections of Grant district.

"Boo" Ryan in Susnell's Place in Wind-up Scrap

Pittsburgh Welter Matched With Al Kendlar of Alliance in Eight-round Final; Other Pugs Ready.

IT LOOKS like an all-star card from here—this Eagles' bill that Matchmaker Tom McDonough has lined up for tonight. Perhaps the main bout will not develop the reeking sensationalism that fairly flowed from the memorable Piazza-Taylor battle recently, but it will be nobody's parlor tea, with one Paddy "Boo" Ryan, a real "Irisher" from Pittsburgh, matched with Al Kendlar of Alliance in the wind-up.

McDonough today announced that Ryan is substituting for Nick Susnell of Rochester against the Alliance pug. Ryan, it will be recalled, is the boy that Freddy Doylestein did not care to meet in the F. O. E. arena here last winter under the current rate of exchange. Susnell wired McDonough Friday that he would be unable to fight here Monday on account of an injured hand or for some other reason, mostly the latter. McDonough wasted no time in arguing the matter but immediately signed up Ryan and that shouldn't hurt the bill one bit.

Ryan in 1923 was national amateur lightweight and welterweight champion. Among his victims in recent years of fighting are Harry Galfund, Dave Webber, Georgia Lavigne, Sammy Markowitz, Red Mack, Jimmy Kelly, Freddie Lux, Al Walther, Johnny Campbell, Jimmy Ryder, Johnny Holmes, Dick Conlon, Buck Thomas, Joe Marks, Joey Burton and others.

He will probably come in at around 145 with Kendlar tipping the beam at approximately the same figure.

Ryan's past record indicates that he is a man of action in the ring and if he lives up to that reputation he should provide Kendlar with a busy night. In fact the pair will have to step lively the entire eight rounds if they please local fans who saw the Taylor-Piazza shindig. That bout has sort of developed a taste for action in the local ring.

WALLACE AND PORTO IN SIX-ROUNDER

YOUNG BILLY WALLACE, of Youngstown, and Frankie Porto, of McKeesport, are paired off in the six-round semi-final and this should be another headline event.

Wallace, in his two appearances in the local arena, has won in decisive fashion, once by decision and once by a technical knockout. It will probably be safe to say that this event will go to the entire six rounds, because both lads are clever and on the defensive and both are tough enough to take a stray wallop now and then.

Wallace, one of the most promising of the lightweight set in Youngstown, has hung up 15 consecutive victories and hopes to add three more in the three battles his manager, Joe De-Niro, has booked for him in the next eight days.

Tonight he's here with Porto. On Friday night he meets a foe yet to be selected, in a six-rounder in Cumberland, Md. On the following Monday he tackles Danny Raeburn in a six-round semi-final to the Harold Scarney-Mike Wallace bout at Warren.

Wallace has advanced by leaps and bounds in recent scraps and is providing one of the most popular of the youngsters appearing on the cards in Youngstown and nearby territory.

THESE LADS HAVE SCORE TO SETTLE

THE four-round opener brings together Kenney Davis of East Liverpool and Kid Smith of Steubenville in their second meeting within the month.

This pair fought at Steubenville a couple of weeks ago in a prelim and Davis was disqualified with a half-minute to go in the final round.

Davis had probably the best of the milling up until the final round and probably would have earned a shade as a result of his willingness, until he bounced to the canvas. Referee Sully of Columbus immediately disqualified Davis, ruling that he had fallen without being hit.

While Sully probably acted honestly, making the ruling the way he believed he saw it, Davis declares that it robbed him of a decision, asserting that he was hit. So, in order to settle this thing, McDonough booked the boys for another four-rounder and it will open tonight's card.

WELTERS MEET FOR DISTRICT TITLE

AND then, the customers tonight are not losing sight of the second prelim on the lodgement's fistful program. This bout has been in the making for a long time and is just a natural attraction. It brings together Ray Mitchell, of East Liverpool, and Freddy Edwards, the Chester swatter, in probably four rounds.

While the customers would like to see this pair travel the six-round route, it is doubtful, however, if the two extra sessions will be appended.

This battle is billed "for the district welterweight championship."

These boys met once before in the local ring, early in the season and the West Virginians managed to get the decision. In his other three bouts here Edwards won by the knockout method, so it appears that Mitchell is his only rival for the district laurels.

Mitchell recently fought Kid Francis here and looked bad. In fact there was little about the whole scrap to commend it. But a short time later he went to Steubenville and surprised even his handlers by a very good performance against Young Bruno.

Both lads have been working out religiously for this scrap for it means the elimination of one or the other, for the present season at least.

Indians' Play Big Feature

Work of Bucs, Tigers Disappointing Thus Far.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Disappointing performances of Pittsburgh and Detroit, and the phenomenal playing of the Cleveland Indians continue to feature the big league pennant races. The Pirates and the Tigers are in last place in their respective leagues today while the Indians, regarded before the season opened as probable occupants of the second division, enjoy a lead of two games in the American league.

George Grantham's terrific hitting has been the only bright spot in the playing of the Pirates, who dropped their sixth game in eight starts yesterday. Johnny Miljus, mound star of the National league champions, lost a 3 to 2 decision to Percy Jones of the Cubs.

The Cubs are playing the best ball in the league, having won five of their last eight games.

Ulie of Cleveland hung up his third straight victory in winning a 2 to 1 game from the St. Louis Browns. The Indians have copied five of their last seven games.

The Tigers, who showed signs of life during the first part of last week, have fallen into evil ways again. Ted Lyons of the White Sox beat them yesterday, 9 to 3.

Rothrock and Hofmann swung a mean shillalah as the Red Sox captured an 8 to 5 slugfest from Washington. Washington and the Yankees, tied for second place, cross bats today for the first time this season.

ROCKFORD ELKS TAKE PIN TITLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—The five man team from B. P. O. E. No. 64 Rockford, Ill., won the eleventh annual tournament of the Elk's National bowling association which came to a close here last night. Their score was 3025.

St. Louis will entertain next year's tournament.

The team of D. Devito and H. Marino, of Blue Island, Ill., won the doubles event with a score of 1419. D. Devito also annexed the "all events" trophy with his total of 2038.

Harry B. Votel, of East Pittsburgh, Pa., toppled 743 pins to capture the singles event.

Elks No. 86, of Terre Haute, Ind., were runners-up in the five-man event. The Newark, N. J., team finished ninth. Jess Richert and Ed Meyer of Indianapolis, scored 1307 for second prize in the doubles.

D. Devito was runner-up in the singles with 739. W. K. Ferry of Cleveland, finished seventh in this division with 658. Otto Tozke of St. Joseph, Mich., finished second in the all events with a total of 1965.

Gasoline pumps along the streets of Havana, Cuba, are to be regulated so that they will fit in with the city's beautiful plans now under way.

Tris and Ty Will Stick In Lineup, Says Connie

Mack's Satisfied if Nobody Else is; Thinks It's About Time "These Grand Veterans Were Getting a Break."

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Connie Mack, proprietor of some of our better known restorations in antiques, wishes to announce today that, in spite of journalistic criticisms—or maybe because of them—Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker are likely to remain indefinitely in the regular line-up of the Philadelphia Athletics. Connie was in a gentle chiding mood as he talked to the writer last night about Ty and Tris. He seemed to feel that, in the general tendency toward disapproval of their elderly efforts, it might have been well to take the fact into consideration that one of the few who approves of them happens to be one of the few who is not wholly unimportant in short, himself.

"I am satisfied with them, if nobody else is," said he, more in sorrow than in anger, but possibly with a modicum of both. "Cobb and Speaker are in my line-up and they are there to stay until further notice."

"There is a tendency to magnify everything Ty and Tris do. Some young fellow will have an off day and nothing is said about it. But, let Cobb or Speaker fail to play a ball 100 per cent perfectly and the cry goes up about them being old and crimped and decrepit and through. I think it is about time they give these grand veterans a break. They surely have it coming to them."

The writer then asked him how long he expected the pair to stick with the situation on their current day-to-day basis and he answered the question very rapidly—by asking another. This usually is parlor etiquette for requesting some one to be so kind as to mind his own dot-and-dash business.

Their outfielding, he intimated, had nothing to do with the team's defeats at the get-away; it was simply bad pitching, he said. The writer suggested that pitching sometimes was made to appear bad by the outfielding. Connie suggested that, in this particular instance, I was entitled to at least one more suggestion.

"Both Cobb and Speaker will be the first to admit that they are not as fast as they were," Mack went on, "at their age, they take this fact for granted. Why, then, can't everybody else do the same thing?"

"All I can say is, that even if they may not be as good as they were, they still are far too good to sit on my bench. It may be that I will have to change my mind on that point at some later date but I haven't done it yet."

Gene Ends Florida Vacation

Delares he is Not Holding Heeney Too Cheaply.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Tanned to a dark brown shade by many weeks of Florida sunshine and packing more solid weight than he has ever carried before, Gene Tunney is home for a few days before transferring his activities of Speculator, N. Y., where he will train for his defense of the heavyweight title against Tom Heeney, of New Zealand.

Tunney is the picture of health. He weighs 202 pounds. Gene was to visit New Haven, Conn., today. It is reported that he will address the class of one of his friends, a Yale professor.

Heeney is reported as sailing tomorrow from Southampton to New York.

Tunney declared that Heeney is undoubtedly the best of the contenders. "I will have nearly three months of hard training behind me when I climb into the ring with Heeney," Gene said. "I am not holding him cheaply and I shall work with high-class sparring partners."

Asked if he is contemplating marriage or taking a trip abroad next fall, Gene replied: "Rediculous. I shall not marry until after I retire—if I ever do. Mean while, I hope to make hay while the sun shines. Last year I got $1,000,000 for taking seven punches on the chin from Dempsey. At this rate of exchange I am willing to risk many more."

Italy has an outdoor-sports craze.

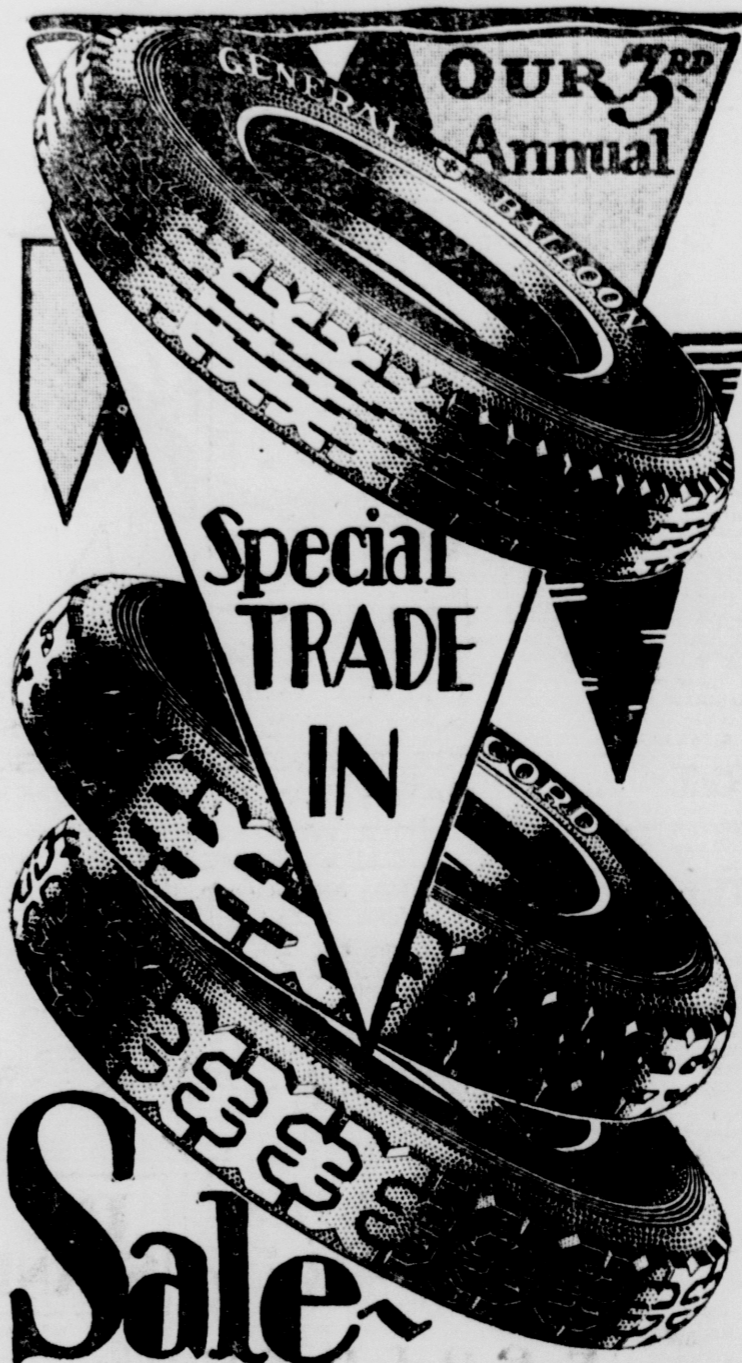

Now in Full Swing and Ready for Another Big Week

MOTORISTS BY THE SCORE took off their old tires last week and are riding now on safe, new Generals.

THEY SOLD US THEIR OLD TIRES at flattering prices. We took in undersized tires from brand new cars — partly worn tires from others — some aged "blowout prospects" from some more.

LOW LEVEL PRICES on new tires—full allowances for worn tires. A tire buyers' event auguring easy sailing for the motorists and hard going for the makeshift bargain tire boys.

STOP FOR THREE MINUTES at our store and learn how little it costs to equip with Generals and know the trouble-free and extra mileage that other people enjoy.

INCREASES in the use of General tires exceeded that of any other tire in the world last year. Annual statements of General and the country's other great rubber factories showed this.

Aside from the top quality reputation, a big factor in General's achievement in leading the field last year was the low price of rubber which made it ridiculously foolish to look for cheap tires the way prices for good tires were—and are today.

Thousands of motorists who have always wanted Generals but believed they could not afford the slightly higher first cost, are taking advantage of present low rubber prices and this special Trade-in opportunity and buying Generals for less than they had paid for other tires, good and bad.

Trade in Every Make, Every Size--Old or New

With Our Full Value Allowance and Today's Low Rubber Prices, What's the Use of Worrying Along With the Ordinary Tire

The General Tire goes two, three and four seasons—more uninterrupted miles, two to one, than any other tire — This is because it is built from the ground up of pure new rubber and first grade fabric. A tire large and strong enough to do the job.

There are tires as bulky as General—made partly of reclaimed rubber, lubbery, loosely put together tires of inferior quality, but they are not the tires that give you the second ten thousand uninterrupted miles.

The experienced motorist knows the General is the correctly built, properly proportioned tire that makes driving safer—traveling more comfortable—that saves clothes, nerves and patience because it doesn't give out with a pinch against the curb or a bump in a bad hole—that doesn't merely protect against accidents or abuse but furnishes unlimited protection—the kind that can be had only when built into the tire itself.

This is the kind of tire you need this year, above all years—with faster speeding cars, shorter stops and more of them, and hurried get-away, you need the big, safe Dual Tread, proper size General—always the preferred tire of the big car owners who want everything the best that money can buy.

This is the tire you need today even on the lighter cars — and can buy — for your car — at less than your usual price for tires by taking advantage of this Trade-in Sale.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

"Sahib," he said, a sudden hoarseness in his voice, "it is from Chen-shu and the dogs that are with him, and were with Hsi Yan at Kalawa that I have fled. Like-wise, it is because of the Sahib's presence here in Singa-pore that I have made my escape, for it was in my mind that I would find protection with him even as he has said, for elsewhere there was none and I would then have but risked by life to no end in that which I have done."

Bob Kingsley dropped back into his chair again. "I don't know how you knew I was here, Mindar Singh," he said, "but no matter about that now. As it is, there's no man I'd rather see than you. He gave a short, hard laugh. "I'd like to hear about Chen-shu — and those others! Tell me about them! And I want to know about that night at Kalawa, too!"

"Sahib, the tale is one," Mindar Singh answered, "for the ending of the tale is tonight, and the beginning is the coming of Hsi Yan to Kalawa. Is it the Sahib's wish that I speak first of tonight, or of that which befell the Sahib's uncle, of which I, Mindar Singh, his servant, was a witness?"

"A witness!" Bob Kingsley leaned eagerly forward. "Good! I hoped if you were ever found that you would be able to tell us the whole story. Begin, then, at the beginning, Mindar Singh."

For a moment Mindar Singh was silent as though lost in thought; then, with his arms folded across his breast, he began to speak:

"I do not say that I can tell all, Sahib, for in truth the ears of man have never listened to stranger things, nor the eyes seen stranger sights than those that I, Mindar Singh, saw and heard in the house of the Sahib's uncle that night, and some of those things. Sahib, I did not comprehend. But what I know, the Sahib shall know, and the tale runs thus:

"Sahib, it had just grown dark when a Chinese junk of great size came in and anchored in front of Kingsley Sahib's house, which, as the Sahib knows, stands alone on the shore and not near the town or near to any other house. From the junk there came ashore a boatload of Chinese and they carried with them to Kingsley Sahib's house a Chinaman who was sick unto death. And I, Mindar Singh, was alone in the house with Kingsley Sahib, for the other servants had gone to their own quarters, which, as the Sahib knows, are at the back of the cleared ground."

Mindar Singh paused, and, with suddenly outflung arms, gestured impatiently.

"The tale is not easy to relate, Sahib," he said. "They had asked no permission to bring the sick man into the house. They came in through the open doors from the veranda to the large room that the Sahib knows is next to the dining-room; and to me, Mindar Singh, who was alone in the room at the time, they gave no heed when I spoke to them. And then I ran to find Kingsley Sahib. When I returned with Kingsley Sahib the sick man was lying on the rattan couch that was near to the table and near to the veranda doors, and those who had brought him he had sent away. And the sick man, put out his hand to Kingsley Sahib, but Kingsley Sahib did not take the hand. Kingsley Sahib's face was very white, and there was that in his eyes which was not good to see. Does the Sahib understand?"

"That part of it—too well!" said Bob Kingsley grimly. "And what then, Mindar Singh?"

"And then, Sahib, the sick man spoke. But not as men of his race speak a tongue that is not their own, for he spoke as the Sahib themselves speak. And yet, Sahib, he spoke with great difficulty, for he was very weak, and the mark of death was in his face. 'Why do you refuse your hand to a dying man who has come to make peace with you at the last, Captain Tom, and to ask forgiveness for the years that are gone?' he said. And Kingsley Sahib answered: 'What devilry is this, Hsi Yan?'"

CHAPTER 42.

"Sahib, Hsi Yan raised himself on the couch, and reached out his arms entreatingly, and the blood came to his lips, and I, Mindar Singh, thought even then that the moment of death had come. But it was not yet to be, for Hsi Yan spoke again. 'There is no devilry,' he said. 'For many years I harbored evil in my heart against you, and against your brother, and against one other, and I cannot die without making proof that my remorse is great. Is that hard to believe, Captain Tom? Well, you will believe me in a minute, for I have come to make you the richest man in all the Archipelago. Could there be any greater proof that I would be at peace with you? Is there any one to whom this wealth would be better given than to one who was once an enemy, but whom, in dying, I ask that I may call my friend?'"

"Sahib, Kingsley Sahib stood there and said nothing. And I know not what was in his mind, but his face was troubled. And Hsi Yan lay back and closed his eyes in his great weakness, for indeed, Sahib, but little strength was left. And then Kingsley Sahib gave orders that I should bring brandy, but Hsi Yan shook his head. 'I do not want it, and it is but a waste' of time and will have no effect,' he said; 'but let your servant leave the room. And Kingsley Sahib ordered me to go.'

"But, Sahib, I did not go far. Will the Sahib say that I did ill in this? It was not because it was in my heart to listen, but because I feared for Kingsley Sahib and what might come to pass—not because of Hsi Yan, Sahib, but because of Hsi Yan's men that at that moment I knew had never gone away as he had ordered them to do, for I saw what Kingsley Sahib, whose back was to the veranda, could not see. Sahib, in the light for an instant there glittered a pair of eyes that stared through the pallings of the veranda rail, though no face could be seen. I liked not what I saw, Sahib, and thus it was that I went no further than the other room, and there from Kingsley Sahib's desk I took Kingsley Sahib's revolver. And I came back and stood behind the door between the two rooms where I could not be seen, and yet where I could see into the room where Hsi Yan lay upon the couch, and Kingsley Sahib stood by the table beside Hsi Yan, and where I could see out through the open doors to the veranda. Will the Sahib say that I did ill?"

Bob Kingsley, leaning forward now, his elbows on the arms of his chair, his chin cupped in his hands, listening intently, shook his head.

"The Sahib is like in heart unto Kingsley Sahib that I served," he said, "and I am grateful for his words. And now, Sahib, the tale grows stranger still. Sahib, as I, Mindar Singh, listened and watched, Hsi Yan told Kingsley Sahib of a great treasure he had found only a few days before, which was one of those treasures that had come about by the gathering together in a secret place of the money and jewels and cargoes from many ships that had been taken by murder and piracy in those days that are long ago now when the seas were not safe from the Orang-laut—one of those treasures, Sahib, of which the Malays tell many tales, that have never since come to the eye of man for the reason, it may be, that those who gathered it by bloodshed were in turn destroyed. Also, he told Kingsley Sahib that, as he said Kingsley Sahib knew, he had lived a life that was not far removed from that even of the Orang-laut who all their lives had mocked at the law; and he told Kingsley Sahib that it was because of the ill life he led that he had been search of some place well hidden from those who passed upon the sea, and yet where junks and ships might come and go secretly and in all weathers without danger to themselves. Sahib, he said the hiding place he sought was for the storing of opium, so that it might be bought and loaded in safety from the law by those who would sail with it to the Sahib's lands across the seas. And thus it was that Hsi Yan in search of such a place went ashore alone from his junk and fell upon the treasure of which he had spoken."
